RT @kjgross1: @KayBlot @karengoda @AlyssaLotmore Yes @KayBlot but ED is poverty work, esp at the community or local level. #MacroSW

@karengoda @macrosw Mostly I don't think we think to do it- or don't know where to start. 1. Who is in charge of your community? 2. Who is opposed to the person or org named? If you can answer those 2 Qs, you have a head start 😊 #macrosw <https://t.co/nnF8vLbaXe>

Q5: What can SWers do to better understand economic development and begin to build our seat at the planning tables? #MacroSW <https://t.co/cYf5OegGwx>

kjgross @kjgross1

an hour ago

@DrKristie @karengoda @macrosw @DrKristie I agree as SWers we don't make the connection between ED and poverty or ED and SW. And if we do, we don't understand how to get involved #macrosw

Emily Crump @emily_crump22

@KayBlot @AlyssaLotmore If social workers focused more on economic development, other issues that we deal with and may be focused on may become better. #MacroSW #CO_Jackson

Discuss this at coalition meetings for a population of interest. Think about what assets your population has to contribute to their community's development. #MacroSW

A5: Social workers can continue to recognize the link between economic development and adverse community experiences that often impact the individuals they work with and bring a trauma-informed perspective to the planning table. <https://t.co/QLzCOyeqNX> #macrosw

@AlyssaLotmore I haven't been at it long but you can join a neighborhood council (elected, appointed or join a committee) and join the finance, planning or disaster response committees. #macrosw

Begin mapping the community you work in for what assets they hold individually and collectively. Assets are social-the day to day work folks do to keep their community and the ones their going Caretaker, fixer, farmer, food preparer #MacroSW
